ADISSEO elite sponsor of 13th AFAF

Allen WU, Reg. Mgr. Aqua APAC

The 13th Asian Fisheries and Aquaculture Forum (13th AFAF) will be held in Taiwan as a virtual event from the 31st of May to the 02nd of June 2022. AFAF is a scientific forum organized by the Asian Fisheries Society (AFS) once every three years to better understand global trends and address current issues faced by the fishery and aquaculture industries within the Asian Region. The main aim of this 3-days scientific and technical forum is to provide an international platform for renowned, as well as young scientists and researchers from around the globe to share their research experiences and innovative ideas in the fields of fisheries and aquaculture. Moreover, this forum brings in a wide range of knowledge and expertise addressing key issues towards developing sustainable fisheries and aquaculture. In view of the prevailing global COVID-19 pandemic, organizer have decided to organize the 13th AFAF as a virtual forum for safety reasons.

Adisseo, as a global leader in specialty additives for aquaculture who is strongly committed in research, innovation and development towards sustainable aquaculture growth is proud of being an elite sponsor of this renowned international event.

Furthermore, Dr. Waldo Nuez Ortin, Lead Scientist Aquaculture, Adisseo Spain will give a talk on "Efficacy of a functional feed additive to optimize intestinal absorption and utilization of nutrients in Fish" on the day 1 (31st of May 2022) and Dr. Ruth Garcia Gomez, Business Development Manager health and farm care products APAC/ISC, Adisseo Thailand will share her view on "Adisseo Health and Farm Care innovative strategies, how to face aquaculture health management in challenging times?" on the day 2 (1st of June 2022).

Moreover, Adisseo will also run a special session focused on key aquaculture industry issues and future trends. This Adisseo special session at AFAF will be conducted for 1.5 hours every day during the three days of the AFAF forum, in the afternoon at the Adisseo Booth, just after the scientific presentations.

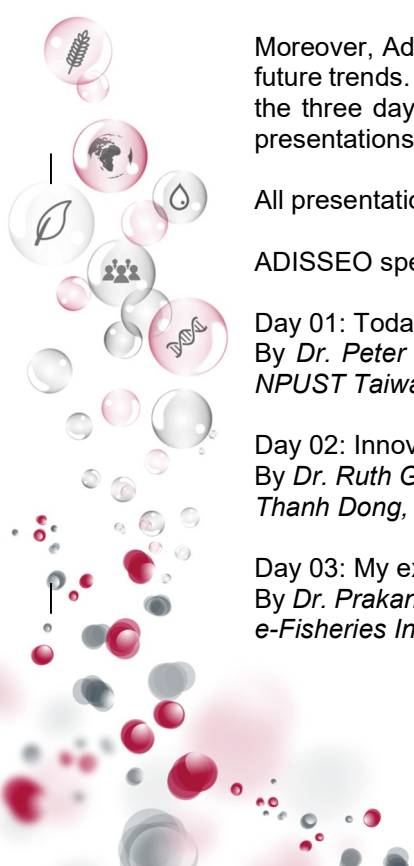

All presentations will be in English.
